

I think when people like me put our name on a no-list, it means we don't want to be called! Don't the bankers and other telemarketers understand what "no" in no-call means?